Eclipse by NS Timber Flooring

Engineered Pre-finished Timber Flooring

While solid timber flooring is an excellent choice for any home, Eclipse pre-finished timber flooring comes in a close second. You get the look and beauty of a natural wood floor without the need for sanding or staining. Eclipse works well for laying over concrete slabs or pre-existing floors.

The surface of this engineered timber floor is made of a strong Australian hardwood, while the underside of the floorboards use an extremely stable 9 ply construction made of plantation Eucalypt.

This product is also great for DIY installations, in that you can handle flooring install in sections rather than having to do it all at once. You can also do it while still living in the house and even while using the same room to an extent. It's easy to install, has minimal mess and creates a perfect timber floor.

Timber Species

Eclipse is available in six Australian hardwood timber species. Some species exhibit only small variations in their appearance while others vary greatly in colour and features.

All species of Eclipse are finished with a semi-gloss surface and bevelled edges.
